SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT INDIAN HALL, Feb. 19, 1903.

A very successful political meeting was held last night in Archer's hall. Mr. A. Malcolm occupied the chair. Although the noise was short the hall was well filled, some coming a distance of twenty miles. Frank Oliver, M.P., addressed the meeting on tariff, immigration and railway issues. He declared against increases of tariff, and for the control of railway rates as a consideration for 'consent'. His position had the approval of the audience, made up of both parties.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1903.

Western Canada.

The world has looked on in wonder at the march of the West of the United States toward a position to which many an older civilization has aspired in vain, but that west of our neighbors began its journey in an immigrant wagon and ended its in a settler's shanty. It waited long for the sound of the locomotive and the buzz of the reaper, and still longer for that irrigation of eastern capital that meant wide operations, quick achievement and the backbone of the needed city. Western Canada already has her palace cars and her freight trains. She begins the new century with a legacy from the old, representing the inventions of fifty years in agricultural machinery, she finds dollars by the millions penetrating her recesses of wealth, and instead of the settler's shanty of the early American West, which often saw many winter snows and spring showers before it gave place to the comforts of an eastern home, Western Canada is rapidly being dotted with the snug residences of the well-to-do farmers.

Rome was not built in a day, but it did not take those early settlers on the Palatine many years to spell out their destiny in Italy. Leadership was the sure heritage of the possessors of those Seven Hills, and the early Roman always knew his opportunity. Western Canada will not be built in a day, but it has already read its future, and the agricultural and commercial Rome are in the field. Grain is king and promise to play the part of another Roman empire among the agricultural powers of the world.

Canada's supremacy as a wheat-growing country is not only in the vast regions at her command for this purpose, but in the advantages of a prairie country in way of cost of tillage, and in the peculiar conditions of soil and climate, which assure not only a large yield of grain, but a better quality than in what have been generally considered more favored sections. The wheat of Western Canada is well known to be extremely hard and the yield is from 30 to 50 per cent more than in the States south of the boundary line. Much of this wheat is on the hard, flinty variety, especially prized by the millers all over the world, who give it a value of ten to twenty-five cents per bushel over the softer varieties grown in Europe and other parts of Canada.

The reason for this superior yield and quality lies in the fact that as you travel toward the northward limits of the wheat-growing belt the finer is the quality of the soil found. The subsoil throughout the intense heat of summer is kept moist by the slow melting of the deep winter frosts, the moisture ascending to the surface and nourishing the roots of the grain, thus stimulating growth and producing a bountiful crop. Again, the sunshine is longer just as the needed time, when the heads are ripening.

Land that produces an average of twenty-five to thirty-five bushels of wheat, and in especially favored sections reaches forty-five and fifty-five bushels per acre, can prove no experiment to the farmer. And those are official figures in the case of Western Canada. There is no industry that will produce better results. Owing to the modern and economical methods employed in crop-raising, harvesting, threshing and marketing, as well as the special ease with which in this prairie country of Western Canada, all this is accomplished, the cost of raising the crop is reduced to a minimum. With the present prospect in way of price and such certainty in way of crop, it does not require a very large demonstration to prove that the wealth of Western Canada is not that of the gold fields of California, but that of the pickaxe of the miner, and the certain returns from the wheat crops more satisfying than the doubtful balances from one of ore.

Each year has seen the new country further into the area of affairs. In 1899 the wheat crop was good. In 1901 the empire, and 1902 has marked Western Canada in the eyes of the world.

It attracted the attention of the British Canadian government, including both federal and local authorities, is wide awake to the situation and is making no efforts to hasten the development of the new offering, which threatens to omit the period of infancy altogether, carry only a day at youth, and leap into maturity before the world has quite realized that it must compete with a new giant.

That the young giant is quite capable of carving out a glorious future no one who understands the situation attempts to deny. This section of the continent seems designed by nature to play an important part in agricultural history, and therefore, in the commercial and political life of the world. Eastern Canada is naturally assuming the foremost role in the acting of the new drama, and will doubtless carry off many of the financial honors. Capital representing eastern Canadian interests is going into the new Eldorado at a rate that clearly indicates that the east is quite aware of the value of the opportunities at her door.

I understand a large corporation has been formed, the British Canadian Wheat Raising Company, Limited, and have begun operations in the Northwest Territories, for the purpose of raising wheat in a wholesale way, with the use of steam machinery and all other modern methods.

I can conceive nothing more profitable than a farm consisting of thousands of acres in fertile Western Canada.

Railways and Canals.

Winnipeg Telegram.

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—The annual report of the department of railways and canals will be out in a few days. This report, containing as it does, the statistics of all the railways in the Dominion, is to a great extent an index of Canada's growth and the report this year shows many very marked increases.

The following figures will be of interest:

Expenditures on railways, $13,407,151, of which $5,430,360, is chargeable to capital account, $2,115,601 to income $5,881,029 to revenue. Canals $2,915,770, of which $2,114,459 is chargeable to capital, $216,788 to income and $584,523 to revenue.

Adding to the above a further sum of $3,138 for miscellaneous expenses, there is a grand total of expenditure for railways and canals of $16,420,001. The total revenue for railways is $5,916,980, for canals $300,813, of which $238,087 is derived from tolls and $62,725 from hydraulic rents.

The government has expended upon railways, prior to, and since confederation up to June 30, 1902, the amount of $150,930,338, including the sum of $25,000,000 granted to the Canadian Pacific railway, for the purpose of constructing its main line, and additions, there has been expended on construction of and, including $2,811,830 paid in subsidies to railways, other than C. P. R., and $2,450,000 paid as working expenses of the government railways, a total of $181,800,000, making a total of railway expenditure of $258,800,000. Of this amount, the sum of $13,881,409 was expended prior to confederation on the construction of the Intercolonial railway. The total revenue from July 1, 1867, to June 30, 1902, was $28,357,703.

The government expended on canals from confederation to June 30, 1902, $19,018,000, and on account of consolidation of land $18,965,441, making a total of $102,485,441. The total revenue from canals during that period was $12,017,750.

The total expenditure on railways and canals from confederation to June 30, 1902, was $301,345,294, to which must be added a sum for miscellaneous expenditure, embracing both, of $657,624, making a grand total expenditure of $302,002,918, with a total revenue of $93,335,510.

The number of railways in operation on June 30 last was 163, but of these many are amalgamated or leased, so that the total number of controlling railways is 79. There are 18,568 miles completed, being an increase over the previous year of 574 miles, and in addition there 223 miles of siding. Of these, 16,761 miles are laid with steel rails, of which 617 are double tracks. There are 18,714 miles in operation, as follows:

Canadian Pacific railway, 7321.
Grand Trunk railway, 3,157.
Intercolonial railway, 1,333.
Canadian Northern, 1,248.
Canada Atlantic, 448.

College For Alberta.

Free Press.
Calgary, N. W. T., Feb. 14.—The Presbytery of Calgary decided yesterday to recommend to the synod of British Columbia and to the assembly the establishment of a school in Alberta for boys and girls. It is proposed that at this school elementary and higher education shall be given. Its location was not decided upon, but it will probably be placed at Calgary. A permanent organization was formed and Rev. James Hastie, of Calgary, was elected president; Rev. Dr. Taylor, of Canmore, secretary, and James Muir, of Calgary, treasurer.

HORSE HILLS.

J. Lewis has been busily engaged, for some time past, taking out fence posts at Birch lake.

The homestead inspector, paid a flying visit to this place, last week, while on his way back from the Beaver Hills. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mearon have had their home brightened by the appearance of a daughter, born to them on the 8th inst.

Chas. Ross, formerly of Ross Bros., who has been trading at Egg lake, passed through here last week with two large loads of choice furs.

Mrs. Elliott, of Lechbridge, is visiting at her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Mearon, of Belmont.

Duncan McLeod, of Belmont, who sold his farm recently, is removing to Hay lakes, this week, where he has purchased three quarter-sections of choice land. It is his intention to begin an extensive ranch.

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Borwick on Monday evening, the 9th inst. Full advantage was taken of the fine moonlight night, as there was a large and gay company present. The excellent music furnished by Prof. Tate's orchestra, was particularly inspiring to the assembled guests, as they floated away in the intricate steps of the waltz. The guests departed about daylight, after having spent a very happy evening.

T. Coghlan and J. Malone have just returned from a trip to the Landing. They report the roads to be in good condition, and everything booming at that point. The bridge at the Sturgeon river is in a dangerous condition, and altogether impassable. The proper authorities would do well to have this repaired without delay, as it may be the cause of some serious accident, to unsuspecting travellers who happen to drive across at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Carey and family, of Egg lake east, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Borwick last week. They returned to the lake on Saturday accompanied by Peter Borwick, who was taking a quantity of freight to that point also.

A number of the young people from here attended a party and dance on Friday evening last, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Kelly, of Turnip lake. There was a large company present, and excellent music was furnished by Pross. McLeod and DeRancourt, while Mr. P. Coghlan performed the duties of floor manager. The party broke up early and everyone went home satisfied that they had fully enjoyed themselves.

Frank Mearon is returning to his home at Lesser Slave lake, about the end of the week. He is taking two loads of supplies back with him, and will be accompanied by his brother, George and Sydney, who are taking several loads of freight to that point, for Revillon Freeres, who have recently established a trading post at the lake. Although Frank has spent but a short visit here, he longs to be back again, to that distant land where solitude reigns supreme.

LEDDUC.

Mr. James P. Findlay left last week in charge of a load of live dogs for Vancouver.

Mrs. Liggins, wife of Geo. Liggins, section foreman, accompanied by their son, Russell, has gone to spend a couple of months with her father in North Dakota.

J. Young, of the immigration department is in town making arrangements for the probable influx of settlers this spring. [An immigration building will likely be erected for settlers' accommodation.]

The buzz of J. Griglett's saw is giving music to the town's people these days in sawing up large piles of poles for summer fuel. Six to eight horses furnish the power.

A considerable amount of stone is being delivered in town, indications of some more substantial buildings for Ledduc this year.

Mrs. James Findlay has been confined to her bed for a week with a severe attack of la grippe.

Feb. 18, '03.

HORSES.

Will arrive at Edmonton on Feb. 17, with a car load of general purpose mares and geldings, weighing from 1100 to 1200.

EDMONTON BULLETIN

The regular meeting of the Edmonton town council was held in the council chamber yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mayor Short and Councilors Cushing, Grier, Gallagher, Ross, Helmick were present.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed with the exception of by-law 235, which was referred back for further consideration.

Communications were read from:

Mr. Ashbridge enquiring about matters in connection with the waterworks system. It was moved by Councilor Gallagher, seconded by Councilor Grier, that Mr. Ashbridge be authorized to get prices on iron 400 to 500 barrels of Portland cement, on 18 inch sewer tile for Nanyo avenue, and that Mr. Chipman be employed on painting by-law and on superintending waterworks connections, that Mr. Peck be appointed inspector, and that Mr. Ashbridge be paid $20 for information asked for by the government re irrigation act if it is required. Carried.

P. McNaughton, engineer, in connection with advertising for tenders for a condenser for the power house. It was moved by Councilor Grier, seconded by Councilor Peck, that Mr. McNaughton be advised to call for tenders for a 1000 horse power instead of a 500 horse power condenser as the smaller one would cost us too small for the use of the town. Carried.

Mr. Ormsby stating that he had installed 40 incandescent and 12 arc lights since the new power had been turned on. The council thought it a favorable report and ordered the letter to be filed.

Dobson, Jackson & Fry enclosing their account against the town. Moved by Councilor Gallagher, and Grier, that the account be paid in full and that Cushing Bros. settle with D. R. Fraser & Co. as regards the lumber used in repairing water tank. Carried.

Cunningham Electric Company stating that all their work would be open to the inspection of Edmonton's fireman. A. W. Ormsby. The letter was filed.

W. A. Bailey, Great Falls, Montana, re establishment of school gallery and electrical organ in Edmonton. His letter was referred to the secretary-treasurer to answer and on motion of Councilor Helmick and Cushing a decision of $100 a month was voted to cover a case of this description. Carried.

Secretary-treasurer of the fire brigade re the matter of appointing the fire brigade chief as fire inspector as a salaried official of the town. On motion of Councilors Gallagher and Helmick the matter was referred to the fire, water and light committee. In this connection it was moved by Councilors Gallagher and Helmick that the team offered by Mr. Sullivan be purchased for $400 for fire brigade purposes. Carried.

F. E. Sims requesting use of council chamber for board of trade meetings. This was granted. A second letter asked for a public meeting to be called to discuss matters pertaining to a jail, post office and court house for Edmonton. It was moved by Councilors Gallagher and Ross that Mr. Sims be instructed that a meeting would be called as soon as certain present negotiations with the government were satisfactorily concluded. Carried.

Reports:

The health and relief committee reported progress in securing suitable nursing ground.

By-law 235 re the expropriation of part of J. H. Lumbrook's land was then taken up and given its first reading in its new form. It was then read a second time. The council then voted to permit the third reading of the bill, which was done. On motion of Councilors Gallagher and Grier the by-law was finally adopted as read.

There are more railways pointing towards the town of Edmonton, at this moment than in any place in Canada.
